

I am totally satisfied with satellite radio. My entire family, at various ages, love it. It gives us variety and quality of service that is unsurpassed. It is actually safer for me since I drive, during my commute, through 3 states and no longer have to switch through a slew of channels as I pass in and out of the local ranges. It is also benefecial for me to tune into my future destination's location, which I would be out of range without satellite radio, to find out the weather and traffic conditions. After I started with satellite radio, I don't know how I lived without it. We actually have 4 satellite radios in my family and am buying one for my son this weekend. Please support this service and technology.
